CG T- 63 advised as follows:

He has been associated with Italian-American civic organizations for many years. Included among these are the Fellow American Union, the Sons of Italy, and the Italian Welfare League. He was born and raised in the Taylor-Halsted Street area in Chicago and through the years, advanced himself to the point where he eventually became a figure of political prominence in Democratic circles. As a result, he is in a position to be acquainted with the influence utilized by individuals such as SAMUEL GIANCANA and MURRAY HUMPHREYS and before these their predecessors. As an example, he pointed out that he is acquainted with a situation whereby the late JAKE GUZIK presented a Democratic First Ward Alderman with $10,000.00 in cash many years ago requesting no favors in return but intimating that certain favors would be expected. As a result, the money was not accepted by this Alderman, according to him, but was turned back to GUZIK. He stated that many prominent and respectable Italian-American business and professional men of the Chicago area are concerned over the fact that notorious hoodlums of Italian-American ancestry have caused a besmirching of the reputations of respectable Italian-Americans. The position of the "hoodlum" of Italian extraction has been promulgated by politicians who have remained in their respective Wards such as Chicago's 1st, 20th and 28th Wards, where the neighborhoods have changed to the extent where persons of Italian extraction are no longer in the majority
